Republic of Iraq: Alexandros, Inc., Al-Qurtas Company, and Ameripat Energy, Inc. are pleased to announce a signed Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to utilize proven, United States patented technology to decontaminate toxic heavy fuel oil reserves.

Said technology completely removed sulfur and CO₂ from toxic sale oil at America's largest, privately held, continuous energy field (AMEREDEV II, LLC) and removed all contaminants (sulfur, H₂S, and CO₂) from heavy fuel oil in samples from Qayyarah, Iraq.

Alexandros, Inc., Al-Qurtas Company, and Ameripat Energy, Inc. are targeting toxic reserves of heavy fuel oil that are outside of OPEC (Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries) allocations and can be freely inserted into the global energy market as ultra-light crude oil.

This project seeks to prove clean energy does not mean no oil and gas energy and can be sustainable, viable, and an important vehicle to lower gas prices, remedy supply-chain issues, lower inflation, and avert recessions.
